FAQ

What do I get for my research fee?

The Gisborne District Council was formed in 1989 following the amalgamation of the Gisborne City, Cook County, Waikohu County and Waiapu County Councils. These Councils stored their records in different formats. To research your request a Council Officer will search any combination of: electronic databases, microfilm records, hardcopy records (if available), and various historic registers. Note: Cook County records pre-1948 were destroyed in a fire. The Gisborne District Council cannot prove whether a Building Consent or Permit was or was not issued for any given property before this date. The results of this property search will not include any information about Compliance Schedules or Earthquake Prone Buildings and will not be circulated to any other department within the Gisborne District Council. For further information regarding this property, Council strongly recommends that the applicant applies for a LIM, which provides a more in-depth report about the subject property.
