

Management and Governance Section

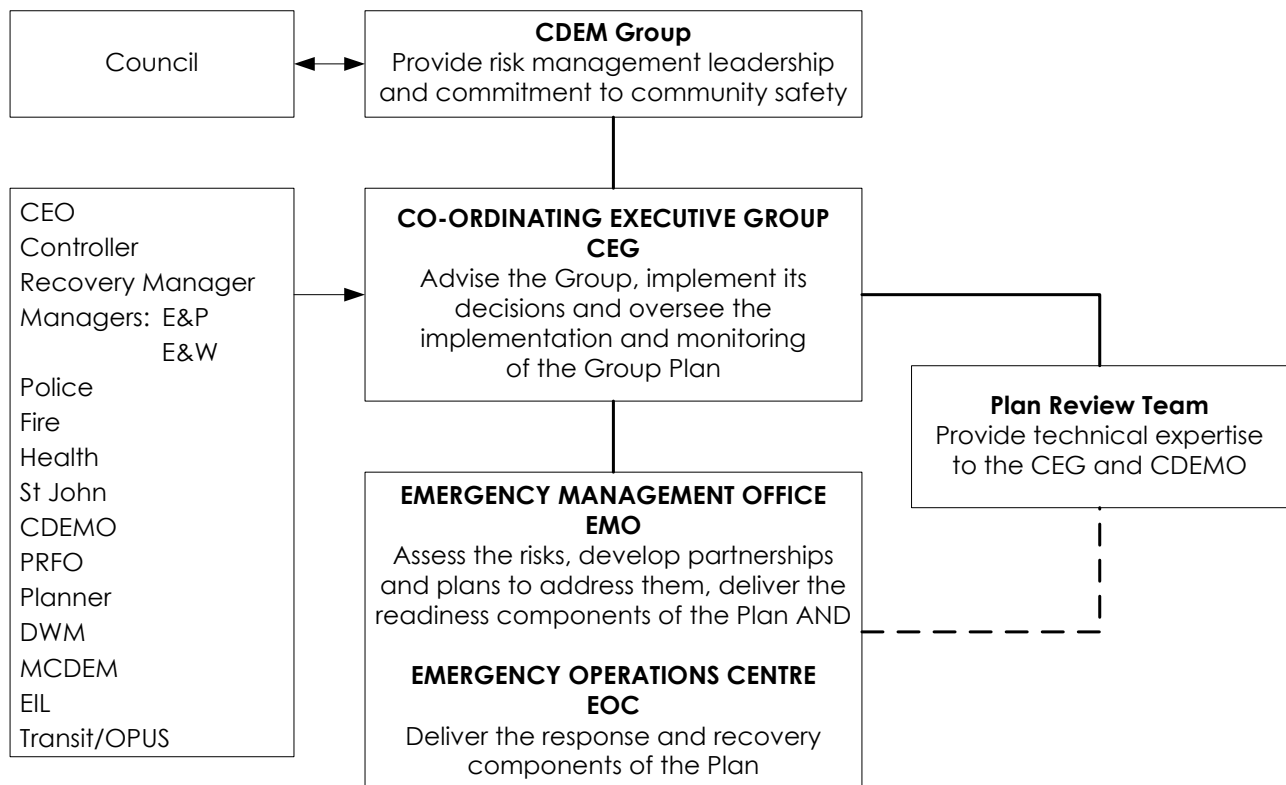

Introduction

Since the introduction of the CDEM Act 2002, the creation of the CDEM Group structures and governance has been developed within the group. It is important that there is clarity with the issue of management and governance in any CDEM Group Plan as confusion will only create misinformation, dysfunctional processes and weak relationships.

The National CDEM Plan section 5 states that Civil Defence Emergency Management Groups (CDEM Groups) are responsible for the implementation of local CDEM in an efficient and effective manner. CDEM Groups are formed from local authorities that work together and with other organisations to provide co-ordinated CDEM planning for reduction, readiness, response, and recovery.

CDEM GROUP DESCRIPTION

As a Unitary Authority the Gisborne District has formed a CDEM Group based on its boundaries and the Council has established itself as the CDEM Group (political committee) to meet the requirements of Section 12 of the Act. This has simplified reporting lines and delegations (see tables 1,2 & 3).

Note: See glossary for explanation of abbreviations.

THE ROLE and LEGAL REQUIREMENTS OF THE CDEM GROUP

The Act requires CDEM planning to take an "all hazards approach" to improve and promote the sustainable management of hazards, enable communities to achieve acceptable levels of risk and plan and prepare for emergency response and recovery.

All natural and technological¹ hazards that have the potential to be beyond the ability of emergency services to cope with, or may require a significant and co-ordinated response, must be planned for by CDEM Groups.

The strategic component binds together the elements of reduction, readiness, response and recovery (the 4R's). This approach will add to rather than replace the operational aspects of existing plans.

The Act requires that the various members of the CDEM Group shall work together, to achieve comprehensive emergency management within the Gisborne District.

The Act recognises that different regions of New Zealand are subjected to different hazards, and that each regional community is better able to address the effects of hazards that affect that region.

The Act requires the establishment of CDEM Groups. The Gisborne Group is a consortium of Council, working in partnership with emergency services (Police, Fire, Health), lifeline utilities and the wider Community to deliver emergency management at the local level. The CDEM Group is responsible for the preparation of this Plan and its final approval and implementation.

Preparation of a CDEM Plan is mandatory. The Act requires that each Civil Defence Emergency Management Group prepare and approve a CDEM Group plan. This plan fulfils the requirement of the Act and is one of the most significant tools to ensure that hazard management within the District occurs in an integrated and co-ordinated way.

The members of the Group agree to apply risk management principles to their assets and processes. The preferred method of implementation is the AS/NZ Standard 4630:1999.

The Gisborne CDEM Group is required by the Act (section 17) to:

- ▶ In relation to relevant hazards and risks:
 - identify, assess, and manage those hazards and risks.
 - consult and communicate about risks.
 - identify and implement cost-effective risk reduction.
- ▶ Take all steps necessary on an ongoing basis to maintain and provide, or to arrange the provision of, or to otherwise make available suitably trained and competent personnel, [including volunteers,] and an appropriate organisational structure for those personnel, for effective civil defence emergency management in its area.
- ▶ Take all steps necessary on an ongoing basis to maintain and provide, or to arrange the provision of, or otherwise to make available material, services, information, and any other resources for effective Civil Defence Emergency Management in its area.
- ▶ Respond to and manage the adverse effects of emergencies in its area.
- ▶ Carry out recovery activities.
- ▶ When requested, assist other Groups in the implementation of Civil Defence Emergency Management in their areas (having regard to the competing Civil Defence Emergency

¹ Technological hazards are non natural hazards, namely those hazards created as a result of human activities (and technologies), that have the potential to create an emergency situation

Management demands within the Group's own area and any other requests for assistance from other Groups.

- ▶ Within its area, promote and raise public awareness of, and compliance with, this Act and legislative provisions relevant to the purpose of this Act.
- ▶ Monitor and report on compliance within its area with this Act and legislative provisions relevant to the purpose of this Act.
- ▶ Develop, approve, implement, and monitor a Civil Defence Emergency Management Group Plan and regularly review the plan.
- ▶ Participate in the development of the National Civil Defence Emergency Management Strategy and the National Civil Defence Emergency Management Plan.
- ▶ Promote Civil Defence Emergency Management in its area that is consistent with the purpose of this Act.

The Group also has many other functions that are conferred or imposed by or under this Act or any other enactment.

Provisions in the following Acts are also relevant to emergency management:

- ▶ Biosecurity Act 1993:
- ▶ Building Act 2004:
- ▶ Fire Service Act 1975:
- ▶ Forest and Rural Fires Act 1977:
- ▶ Hazardous Substances and New Organisms Act 1996:
- ▶ Health Act 1956:
- ▶ Health and Safety in Employment Act 1992:
- ▶ Local Government Act 2002:
- ▶ Maritime Transport Act 1994:
- ▶ Resource Management Act 1991:

MEETING REQUIREMENTS

As Council meets monthly this will enable reports to be submitted as required so there will be no need to establish a set number of meetings per year. The appropriate reports from CEG meetings will be presented to the next Council meeting after it has met.

The Co-ordinating Executive Group (CEG) will meet at least twice per calendar year, mid November to ensure input into the Emergency Management Budget and in March.

Any member of the CEG may at any time make a request to the CEG chairperson for a meeting to be held.

DELEGATIONS and POWERS

The Group delegates under Section 18 of the Act all of the powers of section 85(1) (see table 2 of this Plan) of the Act to the persons appointed as Group Controllers.

The Group delegates under Section 18 of the Act the powers of section 85 b, c, d, e, f, and h (see table 2 of the Plan) of the Act to the persons appointed as Area Co-ordinators and Community Emergency Managers if they have lost communications with the Group Controller or there is an imminent threat to life.

In the absence of the Group Controllers, the Group delegates under Section 18 (1) (see table 2 of this Plan) of the Act, to the person who declares a state of local civil defence emergency, during a state of local emergency, the authority granted under Section 26 of the Act to appoint a Group Controller.

If the Group Controller is present, under section 28 (3),

“A Group Controller or person directed under section 27 may authorise any suitably qualified and experienced person to exercise any power or function or fulfil any duty of that Group Controller or directed person, including the power to authorise the use of those powers, functions, and duties.”

they can delegate a person the powers and functions of the controller for a period of time if the appointed controller is to be absent for any reason.

APPOINTMENTS

Group Controllers (the persons appointed in this section are shown in Annex j.

The Group Controllers have been appointed by the Group (upon recommendation by the CEG) under Section 26 (1) of the Act.

A Group Controller who will act in the absence of the Group Controller under Section 26 (2) of the Act has also been appointed.

As mentioned in the section above, in the event neither is available the person who declares the emergency is able to appoint a Group Controller at the time of declaration.

The Group Controller is able to (section 28 (3)) appoint a person to act on his behalf during an absence in an event. The appointee is able to use any of the powers granted to the Controller unless specifically prohibited.

Group Recovery Manager

The CDEM Group has appointed a Group Recovery Manager to carry out its recovery functions. The Recovery Manager reports to the CEG. The person appointed is identified in annex j.

Area Co-ordinators

The CDEM Group appoints a person to be the Area Co-ordinator for each of the identified civil defence Areas. The persons appointed are identified in annex j.

EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT OFFICE

The Emergency Management Office is provided by the Gisborne District Council. The Office co-ordinates and facilitates the 'day to day' planning and delivery of Civil Defence Emergency Management on behalf of the Group. General Tasks Include:

- ▶ Administrative and advisory support to the CEG, and CDEM Group Committee.

- ▶ Project and financial management, including development and implementation of the CDEM Group Plan.
- ▶ Co-ordination of CDEM Group policy development and implementation.
- ▶ External liaison support with Ministry of CD&EM and other CDEM Group's.
- ▶ Co-ordination of monitoring and evaluation activities.
- ▶ Ensuring there is a functioning GEOC.
- ▶ Training activities as outlined in this Plan
- ▶ Maintaining a community link and radio system.
- ▶ Maintaining a communication system that links communities and the GEOC.
- ▶ Responsible for educating the public and providing advice for emergency planning.
- ▶ Providing a district wide warning system and co-ordination of non-declared events where it is required by the Group Adverse Event Plan.

EMERGENCY SERVICES CO-ORDINATION COMMITTEE (ESCC)

The ESCC is committee convened by the Police and its members include, NZ Fire Service, DHB, St John, CDEMO, PRFO, reps from EIL. The ESCC meets periodically and resolves any 'day to day' issues involving emergency services operations. It also supports joint training and exercises and other joint initiatives that have multi-agency benefits. It reports to the CEG for resolution of issues that require a higher-level involvement.

DISTRICT COUNCILLORS

As a general rule Councillors will not hold positions in the civil defence organisation so they can keep a watching brief and not be tied down by operational responsibilities. Exceptions will only be made with the agreement of the Mayor for a specific purpose or skill.

Rural Councillors should make themselves available to their Area Co-ordinator to provide assistance in the Area Headquarters. Most likely roles are, helping with the media, providing local knowledge to the Intelligence Teams and relating any concerns to the Mayor.

Urban Councillors are best utilised by keeping the Controller/Mayor up to date with any major concerns in the City.

COSTS

Unless there is a specific agreement for an identified project, costs for all agencies during and outside of emergencies 'belong' to that agency. The GDC agrees to fund the costs involved with servicing the CEG meetings. This does not include external agencies time related costs or travel expenses.
